7. Nature of Advice

General financial advice

There may be times we offer you general financial advice. You should note that general financial advice does not relate specifically to you and therefore may not be appropriate to your particular financial needs, objectives and financial circumstances. You need to take this into account before deciding whether or not to act on it. This FSG contains general information. If you have further questions after reading it please contact us.

Personal financial advice

If we provide you with personal financial advice, then you will initially receive a Statement of Advice (SOA) when, or as soon as practical after the advice is given. This statement will set out the advice, the basis on which the advice was given and any remuneration or other benefit that we, including our representatives and associates, may receive. We will also include details of any matter that might reasonably be expected to be capable of influencing us in providing this advice.

If you maintain an advice relationship with us, then generally we will not provide an SOA for further advice situations unless there have been significant changes to either your personal circumstances or the basis of the advice since your last SOA was provided. In these circumstances however, we are still required to keep a Record of Advice (ROA). You have the right to request a copy of your SOA or ROA at any time.

We will maintain a record of your personal profile including details of your objectives, financial situation and needs. We also maintain records of any recommendations made to you. For information on how to access these records, please refer to the section 'Privacy'.

We will not give you personal advice in our regular updates, research reports or marketing material, when you visit our website, or contact our Client Services team.

8. Documentation

HLK will provide clients with the following documentation where applicable:

Transaction Documentation:

HLK will provide clients with the relevant documentation to facilitate requested transactions (i.e. client agreement, terms & conditions and confirmation).

Factual information/Deal execution only:

HLK can provide you with factual information and research, and facilitate execution only requests.

Product Disclosure Statements:

If we make a recommendation for you to acquire a particular financial product or offer to provide or arrange for the provision of a particular financial product, you should also receive a Product Disclosure Statement which contains important information regarding the features, benefits, risks and fees applicable to investment in such product, and should be read carefully to enable you to make an informed decision about whether to acquire or utilise such products.

Statement of Advice (SoA):

A SoA is a document that sets out your situation, goals and your adviser's financial recommendations. If you are a retail client, you will normally receive a SoA when we provide you with personal advice that takes into consideration your personal objectives, financial situation and needs. The SoA will contain:

- the advice (including advice on which investment strategy under the MDA service is most appropriate to your personal circumstances)
- the basis on which it was given
- the identity of the person(s) advising you
- information about fees, commissions and associations related to the provision of this advice.

The MDA adviser will provide you with a SoA and this may be HLK or an authorised representative of HLK.

Record of Advice (RoA):

On an ongoing basis, a Record of Advice (ROA) will be provided instead of an SOA if there have been no significant changes in your personal circumstances and/or the basis of the advice has not significantly changed since your last SOA was provided. You have the right to request a copy of your SOA or ROA for up to seven years after the advice has been given. Your request can be made in writing or verbally.

Annual Investor Statement (AIS):

An AIS is a report which provides a comprehensive summary of your MDA. If you are a retail client, you will receive an AIS for each financial year. The AIS will contain:

- transaction summary of each MDA
- annual auditor's report
- a copy of the annual review of the Investment Program
- SoA and RoA which were given
- the total management costs, and any other fees and costs associated with the MDA services provided to you, over the relevant reporting period

9. Managed Discretionary Account (MDA)

This FSG complies with the conditions of MDA relief extended to MDA Service providers by ASIC in accordance with ASIC Corporations (Managed Discretionary Account Services) Instrument 2016/968 and ASIC Regulatory Guide RG179. HLK provides an MDA service that enables clients to delegate the investment management and trading discretion for exchange traded and over-the-counter securities and derivatives transactions, to HLK. This means HLK will invest in financial products on your behalf without prior reference to you for each individual transaction.

All securities and financial investments involve risks. HLK has an effective risk management system in place to ensure that all risks are recognised and measures to minimise the risks are implemented. HLK maintains a focused approach to risk management by monitoring regularly.

The significant risks associated with investing through the MDA service include:

- Investment objective risk, risk that an investor's objectives will not be met by the MDA. Authority may be used to invest in assets which may not suit your objectives, needs and risk level or may be unsuitable from a social or ethical position.
- Manager risk, the risk that the manager will not achieve its performance objectives or not produce returns that compare favourably against its peers. Past performance results are not necessarily indicative of future performance.
- Concentration risk, the reliance on a group of securities, instruments or asset class that may significantly affect the performance of your portfolio.
- Product Risk, the risks for clients in utilising the MDA service also include those existent in non-discretionary dealings in exchange traded and over-the-counter securities and derivatives transactions. These risks are referred to in the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) of the relevant financial product. The PDS should be carefully read and reviewed before acquiring the product. Derivatives carry a high level of risk to your capital and you should only trade with money you can afford to lose.
- Counterparty risk, risk of loss due to a counterparty not honouring a financial commitment which may cause the value of the MDA to fall. Counterparties include brokers, settlement houses, banks and other authorised deposit taking institutions.
- Market risk, changes in the prices of investments that may result in loss of principal or large fluctuations in the valuation of your investment within short periods of time. Factors that drive changes in asset prices include changing profitability of companies and industries, economic cycles and conditions, volume of security issuances, investor demand levels, business confidence and government central bank policies.
- Volatility risk, the potential for the price of your portfolio to vary sometimes distinctly over a short period of time. The greater the volatility of the returns the more likely it is the returns will differ from those expected over a given time period.
- Liquidity Risk, when particular investments are difficult to purchase or sell preventing closing out a position or re-balancing within a timely period and at a fair price.
- Inflation risk, the risk that the prices of goods and services will rise faster than the value of the investments.
- Company specific risk, investment in a company's securities is subject to risk of that particular company's performance due to factors that are relevant and applicable to the company, the sector of the market to which the company belongs, or the equity market generally. Where it has exposure to that security it may affect the performance of the MDA.
- Regulator risk, changes of law and other statutory restrictions, including but not limited to taxation and corporate regulatory laws, practice and policy.
- Key Employee Risk, relevant service providers employ specialist investment personnel who have responsibility for implementing the investment process. If key investment staff were to leave this would be destabilising and could lead to falls in the value of the MDA and in extreme circumstances could lead to the termination of the MDA. We actively develop alternative MDA strategies and are continually seeking new specialist investment personnel to mitigate key employee risk.

- Business Continuity Management, is a fundamental part of our ability to protect our staff and fulfil our fiduciary responsibilities to clients in protecting against business continuity risk. We maintain Crisis Response and Business Recovery Plans to facilitate the management of any incident which has the potential to harm our staff, damage our premises or disrupt our business.
- Strategy Risk, the risk that the investment processes of the MDAs do not successfully reproduce historical or intended results. This may have an adverse effect on the performance of the invested MDAs. The asset allocation process involved in the MDAs is entirely driven by the underlying quantitative model. The investment decisions are implemented via a strict framework of rules and limits, so no arbitrary discretionary investment decisions occur in the process.
- Currency Risk, the MDAs' assets may be exposed to currencies other than Australian dollars. The value of such investments may be affected favourably or unfavourably by fluctuations in exchange currencies. In all cases, back-testing for quantitative efficiency for each investment strategy is conducted by normalizing returns for currency fluctuations.
- Leverage Risks in relation to Non-Limited Recourse Products, risks specific to financial products that we will trade on your behalf that operate a margin account are explained in the WARNING section of the Investment Program.

If you wish to instruct HLK in relation to corporate actions (proxy voting) or otherwise regarding the financial assets held in your MDA portfolio, please contact us via the means detailed in Section 3 of this FSG.

Clients must enter into a formal Client Agreement - MDA Contract ("MDA Contract") prior to accessing this service. The MDA Contract provides all relevant communication protocols, and includes an investment program that is prepared in accordance with the requirements in Division 3 of Part 7.7 and Division 2 of Part 7.7A which details the following:

- the nature and scope of the discretions that HLK will be authorised and required to exercise under the MDA Contract and the investment strategies under the Investment Program that will be applied in exercising those discretions;
- any significant risks associated with the MDA Contract;
- the basis on which we consider the MDA Contract suitable for you; and
- warnings about any applicable limitations relating to the MDA Contract (particularly in relation to whether the MDA Contract is suitable for you and whether this suitability could change over time) which you must consider before signing the MDA Contract

All retail clients are required to obtain independent advice prior to entry into such an arrangement, to ensure it is appropriate for their personal financial needs, objectives and circumstances. For MDA services, HLK Group will have to consider your personal circumstances, needs and objective. We will provide you with specific personal advice and issue you with an SOA, Consent to Non-Limited Recourse Products and MDA Contract.

It is important that you provide us with accurate information as the MDA contract may not be suitable for you if you have provided to us limited or inaccurate information relating to your relevant personal circumstances. The MDA contract may also cease to be suitable if your relevant personal circumstances change, therefore it is important that you communicate with HLK if you experience major changes in your circumstances.

HLK's Financial Advisers will review the SOA, MDA Contract and Investment Program at least once every 12 months.

HLK's MDA service does not include custodial or depository services so as a client you will directly hold legal title to the portfolio of assets. Therefore for the service to be implemented, if you hold your MDA assets through a custodian, you will need to authorise HLK as the MDA provider to provide instructions to your external MDA custodian on your behalf (i.e. the custodian who will hold your assets that are covered under the MDA Contract), and enter into a custody agreement with an external MDA custodian to provide custodial or depository services to you and who will act on the MDA provider's instructions in relation to dealing with your portfolio of MDA assets. You should also be provided with, and read and understand, the FSG of the external MDA custodian.

The executing broker Think Huge Investments Pty Ltd utilises is:

HLK will provide MDA clients with electronic access to information on a substantially continuous basis detailing your investment portfolio. The information details:

- all transactions effected as part of the MDA service
- the value of the assets in the client's portfolio
- all revenue and expenses (including fees and charges) relating to the MDA service
- a statement of the time at which the information is current

You may also receive Quarterly and Annual Reports summarising the information provided.

Withdrawals of Funds / Closing Account

We strongly believe that your investment account is your property and that you should have the right to withdraw any or all of your funds at any time that you wish. With this being one of our core beliefs, and unlike many other managed investment funds, we don't place restrictions on your right to withdraw your funds at any time (subject to you maintaining sufficient funds to satisfy your margin obligations). We do not charge any exit penalties or fees.

You are able to withdraw your funds directly through the executing broker's funds withdrawal process. The broker will advise you of the time required to process the transaction(s) and any associated fees. Please refer to the PDS provided to you by the executing broker for more details.

In order to protect client accounts from exposure to open positions during a withdrawal process, we require our clients to notify us via email, prior to requesting the withdrawal from the broker, to allow us the opportunity to close all open or pending positions.

10. Professional Indemnity Insurance

In compliance with s912B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth), ASIC Corporations (Managed Discretionary Account Services) Instrument 2016/968 and ASIC RG 126, and subject to the terms and conditions we maintain Professional Indemnity Insurance to cover the financial products and services we and our Corporate Authorised Representatives / Individual Representatives / Employees provide, including any claims in relation to the conduct of our former representatives/employees.

HLK is responsible for the financial services we provide to you under our Australian Financial Services License.

HLK is an agent when dealing in Contracts For Difference and margin foreign exchange contracts, i.e. off-market Over-The-Counter (OTC) derivatives. HLK will arrange for another counter-party to issue (in conjunction with HLK) these specific financial products.

HLK may also arrange for you to be supplied with financial services and products issued by non-related product providers. HLK may receive a fee or commission payment from these non-related issuers as a result of you investing in one of their products or services. HLK does not act as a representative of any other licensee in relation to the services or products we provide.

HLK is remunerated through the fees and commissions that we charge for the services and products we provide. With certain products, we are also directly remunerated by non-related product issuers through ongoing commissions.

Fees and commissions charged to you will depend on the type of financial product being traded, the frequency of your trading activity, the type and level of service required and the size of the transaction. Rates are subject to negotiation by you with HLK prior to transacting any business. Fees and commissions, once disclosed and agreed, will be charged to your trading account at the time your transaction is executed.

The tables attached in the Annexure to this FSG, provide an indication of our standard commission rates (all quoted exclusive of any Goods and Services Tax plus transaction and exchange fees). These rates are subject to change from time to time.

A detailed description of the fees, charges and commissions payable to HLK for each of the financial products offered by HLK can be found in the Product Disclosure Statement for the relevant financial product.

HLK's employees and directors are remunerated by way of salary and other employee benefits. They may also be eligible for a discretionary bonus that is based on achievement of pre-determined business objectives such as contribution to profit, client service, risk management and leadership/team contribution.

Certain employees, directors and representatives may also receive 0% to 90% of all fees and commissions generated from their clients depending on the level of salary and the aggregate revenue that they earn for HLK. All remuneration paid by you to HLK or to our employees, directors and representatives is included in the fees and commissions disclosed in the tables in section 18.

HLK is also entitled to retain any interest it earns on client money held in the segregated accounts it must maintain pursuant to the Corporations Act. The provider of each segregated account determines the rate of interest.

A service provider who may receive financial or non-financial benefits from us may have referred you to us. The service provider in question should have disclosed these to you. Please note that such benefits will not impact transaction fees or the rates you will be offered for financial products or services undertaken with HLK.

14. Disclosure of any relevant conflicts of interest

HLK will advise you of any material interest that could reasonably be expected to influence our recommendation of a financial product to you either, verbally or within an SOA or ROA. We manage, and will clearly disclose any conflicts that we believe may influence our advice.

18. Annexure to Financial Services Guide Dated 27th of March 2018– Fees and other costs

DID YOU KNOW?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example reduce it from $100 000 to $80 000).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs.

You may be able to negotiate to pay lower contribution fees and management costs where applicable. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

TO FIND OUT MORE

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a managed funds fee calculator to help you check out different fee options.

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from your assets held under our MDA service.

You should read all the information about fees and costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment.

The table on the following page shows you the fees and charges that maybe charged to you as a client

Example of MDA fees

Brokerage for transactions made at HLK's discretion as part of the MDA service will affect your returns.

How are performance fees calculated?

Performance fees will be charged monthly at a rate of 30% on profits using a high water-mark. The high-water mark is calculated from the highest Net Asset Value ("NAV") after a performance fee has been charged.

Performance fees are separate from and additional to management costs.

Date	1 st of Jan	1 st of Feb	1 st of Mar	1 st of Apr
Net Asset Value (NAV)	$100,000	$110,000	$105,000	$117,000
Profit (Loss)	-	$10,000	-$2,000	$12,000
Performance Fee	-	$3,000	-	$3,000
NAV After Performance Fee	$100,000	$107,000	$105,000	$114,000
High-water Mark	$100,000	$107,000	$107,000	$114,000

Above is an example how HLK's performance fees are calculated and charged. The above example assumes that $100,000 was invested. If the MDA had achieved a return of 10% for the month, your account would now be at $110,000. The performance fee for the first month would be calculated on the profit (the performance fee is 30%) therefore $3,000 is charged to the account. This now leaves the high-watermark at $107,000.

If in the second month of trading, the MDA made a net loss of $2,000, there would be no performance fee paid. However the high-water mark would remain at $107,000 as this remains the highest level after a performance fee has been taken.

In the third month, the MDA returns to profitability, and returned $12,000 for the month, the equity would now be at $117,000. However since the high-water mark is at $107,000, the performance fee is only charged on the profit above the high water mark. i.e. 30% of $10,000 instead of 30% of $12,000.

All fees and charges are including GST.

How are fees recovered?

Clause 9.3 of the MDA Contract states that the client instructs and authorises the Clearing Broker to pay to HLK all management fees and/or performance fees from the client's account upon receipt of a statement from HLK, without any requirement on the part of the Clearing Broker to review or verify that statement.

Fee changes

Under clause 9.2 of the MDA Contract, the MDA Manager will give the Client at least 30 days' prior notice in writing of increases to the fees. In relation to a change that is not an increase in fees or charges, the MDA Manager will give the Client prior notice in writing of a material change. The changes will take effect from the expiration of the notice period and the fees set out in the Financial Services Guide, the Statement of Advice and this Agreement will be deemed to be automatically amended in accordance with the notice.
